

CANYON LANDSCAPES

Day 1: LAS VEGAS ARRIVAL

Arrive in Las Vegas, pick up your rental car, and proceed to your hotel in the glittering "Entertainment Capital of the World." Las Vegas has something for everyone: shopping, dining, world-class entertainment, casinos and spas.

Day 2: LAS VEGAS - ZION - BRYCE CANYON

Drive across the vast Nevada desert to Zion National Park and view the massive rock formations formed by wind, time and the wandering Virgin River. In the afternoon, travel to central Utah and visit the majestic hoodoos of Bryce Canyon. Nature's artistry has created rocks in various shades of red, formed by erosion into pinnacles and spires, even more stunning against the blue skies of the area.

Day 3: BRYCE CANYON - LAKE POWELL - MONUMENT VALLEY (NAVAJO INDIAN RESERVATION)

In the morning, make sure to view the dazzling display of color and light of the sunrise at Bryce Point. The sun rising above the canyon ignites the red rock spires turning them into an ever-changing kaleidoscope of color. Continue south through Utah, passing through the charming western town of Kanab where many cowboy films have been made. Later, arrive in Page and visit the Glen Canyon Dam and magnificent Lake Powell with its crystal blue waters. After passing the town of Page, you travel through the extensive Navajo Reservation. Visit Monument Valley Tribal Park and see some of the most iconic images of the Southwest. Sleep tonight in Kayenta, one of the major towns in the Navajo Reservation.

Day 4: MONUMENT VALLEY - HOPI INDIAN RESERVATION - WILLIAMS

Continue driving through the vast Navajo Indian Reservation and perhaps visit one of the Hopi Indian Villages. The Hopi Reservation is one of the smallest in America and is located in the center of the Navajo Reservation. The Hopi and Navajo have very different cultures and your day will allow you to learn about both of them. In the afternoon, pass through Flagstaff, known for its university and observatory before arriving in Williams, the gateway to the Grand Canyon.

Day 5: WILLIAMS - GRAND CANYON - WILLIAMS

Travel today to the awe inspiring Grand Canyon by either car or the historic Grand Canyon Railway. Take time to walk or hike one of the numerous trails either along or partially down the canyon. In the late afternoon, return to Williams and enjoy strolling down its Main Street which is an original Route 66 street, complete with diners, neon signs and charming souvenir shops.

Day 6: WILLIAMS - OAK CREEK CANYON - SEDONA

Leave Williams and travel down scenic Route 89A, a spectacular drive through Oak Creek Canyon from Flagstaff to Sedona. The road resembles a spiral staircase winding around giant red rock monoliths and buttes. Arrive in Sedona with its charming array of western shops and boutiques. Sedona is known for its mystical qualities which you can learn about.

Day 7: SEDONA - ROUTE 66 - HOOVER DAM - LAS VEGAS

Leave Sedona and head west, traveling over some of the original Route 66 if you wish. A great stop is in the town of Seligman. Evidence of the old road can be seen all along Seligman's main street where motels, cafes and numerous Route 66 gift shops beg to be explored. Continue to another piece of history, Hoover Dam, before returning to Las Vegas.
